

Edinboro woman wins Farm Show syrup contest

An Edinboro woman took top honors in the maple syrup judging at the Pennsylvania Farm Show.

Janet Woods of Hurry Hill Maple Farm was awarded Best Syrup of Show for her entry, a light amber in glass. The judge said it was the best of 85 samples.

“I was shocked,” said Woods, who also won the maple beverage and salad dressing competition.

“Sometimes you get an exceptional batch,” she said. “We had a good season, with lots of mud and snow and fluctuating temperatures. So when I saw this, I put aside 25 gallons.”

Her Fry Road sugar house and museum will open for the season on March 24.

Laura Dengler, of Saegertown, was named premier exhibitor in the show’s maple category. Entries from her How Sweet It Is farm earned more total points than any other competitor in 15 categories.
